AccorHotels partners with Humane Society International to source 100% of the eggs its hotels serve from free-range farms

Following up on AccorHotels' April 2016 pledge to only serve by 2020 free-range eggs - including shell and liquid eggs - in countries where they are available, the Group has announced today that it is partnering with Humane Society International to take this commitment further and identify responsible sources in areas where free-range supply chains are currently unavailable, difficult to locate or incipient. AccorHotels will completely eliminate caged eggs from its supply chain in markets like in Europe by 2020, and in remaining markets where local regulation and certification permits within 8 years.
